

NINEVEH SEED (Sustainable Enterprise Economic Development) Rebuilding lives | Restoring hope IMPACT Creating jobs | Rebuilding communities

"How can we go back to our village when there are no jobs?" said one of the refugees we met in 2018. He and his family fled their home in Qaraqosh near Mosul in the middle of the night as the terrorist army of ISIS approached. They now live 250 miles away in a small portacabin at The Virgin Mary Refugee Camp in Baghdad.

The Nineveh Plain, known as the breadbasket of Iraq was devastated by ISIS in 2014. Tearing through villages and towns, they demolished and burnt homes, businesses, farms, churches and religious landmarks, leaving destruction, desolation and fear in their wake. Up to 3 million Iraqis are displaced people in their own country, with many people from the Nineveh Plain fleeing to Baghdad, Erbil and Jordan for safety.

3 million Iraqis displaced

67,000 Iraqis fled to Jordan

175,000 Iraqi Christians left in Iraq

"I fully intended to leave... my whole work was over. But when Mosaic Middle East came, they gave me hope." - Raed - father, chicken farmer

Nineveh SEED Programme 'SEED' stands for 'Sustainable Enterprise Economic Development'

Our focus is on smaller enterprises that can be operational in a short space of time with small to medium sized funding (£10k to £40k per project) creating up to 12 jobs each.

Our vision is 40 projects by 2024, including those targeting youths and women. Benefits extend to entire families (average family size 5 plus). Impact on the wider community could be as many as 15,000 people through provision of local produce and contribution to the local economy.

Nineveh SEED provides desperately needed jobs; generates income and boosts the local economy. Other benefits include:

- The therapeutic benefits of success and prosperity to people who have been traumatised in the past
- The restoration of dignity to the victims of ISIS
- The affirmation of the cultural identity of those who have been marginalised by persecution
- Celebration of the cultural diversity of northern Iraq
- The empowerment of women through specifically targeted business development
- The development of skills of young people
- The reconciliation of different communities having a joint stake in economic success

"Where Bulgur Wheat cultivation has been halted for several years because of ISIS, we are once again able to plant enough to meet the new demand for the 2021/21 season." - Sufyan Adnan, Bulgur Wheat Factory Partner

Beyond 2020 Nineveh SEED Conference, August 2020

Mosaic Middle East held a 2-day conference with 20 people of different ethno-religious backgrounds from the Nineveh Plain and Sinjar. NGO workers from Christian, Yazidi and Shabak communities and 6 local business owners attended. The purpose was to reflect on the impact of the existing Nineveh SEED programme and how it can have a wider and sustainable impact.

The following 5 KEY intervention areas were identified:

Youth EmploymentSustainabilityTrainingLonger-term CommitmentSocial and Gender Inclusion

"We hope to receive international support or compensation from the state due to the loss of our factories and businesses. But so far, we have not received any compensation. All are just promises; we hope for better times." – Abdullah Darwish, Owner of the Tahini Factory

Our aim is to rebuild livelihoods in a targeted and sustainable way, ensuring enterprises, agriculture and businesses survive and provide for families from all ethno-religious groups, minorities and entire communities long into the future.

"We're slowly seeing change for the better. Derelict farms produce again. Villagers who rely on expensive imported food regain access to local produce. Young people find work where there has been so little opportunity. Families are reopening businesses after the trauma of ISIS." - Mike Simpson, Mosaic Middle East CEO
